

A Cultural Tour of Ireland

An off the beaten path guide to the Emerald Isle

Projection: Transverse Mercator (IRENET95)
 Central Meridian: 9°W
 Data Source: Natural Earth, Lonely Planet, Noun Project (Albert Vila, Sergio Barros, Luis Prado, Dominique Vicent, Christopher T. Howlett, Ashley van Dyck)
 Cartographer: Christopher Morgan

-  Parks & Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty
 1. Glenveagh
 2. Sperrin
 3. Causeway & Antrim Coast
 4. Mourne
 5. Wicklow Mtns.
 6. Killarney
 7. The Burren
 8. Connemara
 9. Ballycroy
 10. Pheonix
 11. Lough Key Forest
-  Sightseeing
 1. Cliffs of Moher
 2. Slieve League
 3. Horn Head
 4. Giant's Causeway
 5. Copper Coast
-  Castles
 1. Doe
 2. Blarney
 3. Cahir
 4. Bunratty
 5. Kylemore Abbey
 6. Ashford
 7. Kilkenny
-  Neolithic Sites
 1. Inishmurray
 2. Carrowmore
 3. Newgrange
 4. Dun Aengus
-  Capitals
 1. Northern Ireland
 2. Republic of Ireland
-  Holy Sites
 1. St. Colman's Cathedral
 2. Rock of Cashel
 3. Clonmacnoise
 4. Skellig Michael
 5. Glendalough
-  Premium Pubs
 1. Stag's Head
 2. The Franciscan Well
 3. The Laurels
 4. Tig Coili
 5. Keane's
 6. Tricky's McGarrigle's
 7. Kyteler's Inn
 8. Peadar O'Donnell's
-  Airports
 1. BFS
 2. DUB
 3. ORK
 4. SNN
-  Ferries
 1. Rossaveal
 2. Larne
 3. Belfast
 4. Dublin
 5. Rosslare
 6. Cork

A Few Highlights

Keane's Pub is a home away from home tucked in the Maumturks. Warm up by the peat fires after a hike in the mountains and enjoy a pint and a 'toastie' (a grilled ham & cheese sandwich).

Near its namesake city, Killarney National Park offers beautiful lakes, mountains, a castle, and multiple species of deer. You can also go for a carriage ride if you're so inclined.

Cobh, just outside of Cork City, is known for St. Colman's Cathedral and its brightly colored cottages built on the hill. Cobh was also famously the final port of call for the RMS Titanic.

Often overshadowed by the Cliffs of Moher to the south, Slieve League is tucked away in Donegal and boasts cliffs almost three times taller than its neighbours in County Clare.

